

TLS

UNIVERSITY OF JORDAN
LIBRARY

50096

THE TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

FRIDAY • 30 JANUARY 1981 • No 3,061 • 40p

A watercolour of Gustave Flaubert in evening dress and wearing the Legion d'honneur, by Eugene Delacroix, 1840. The picture is one of a number of portraits by Grand of people who attended the 'soirées du Louvre' held in the rooms of the comte de Nieuwerkerke, at that time 'surintendant des Beaux Arts'. It figures as the front-piece to the catalogue of the exhibition marking the centenary of Flaubert's death; the exhibition is reviewed on page 111.

The compulsions of Christopher Smart

The road to 1914;
The Portuguese in Angola

Flaubert—the letters of an homme-plume

Gobbledygook & glottotherapy;
rediscovering Ivan Bunin

Women and philanthropy

Turner and Walter Scott;
Australian poetry;
Eric Korn's remainders

Commentary: Francis Chantrey,

'Man and Superman',

'Atlantic City',

Tristan at the Met,

Controversy at Cambridge

Fiction: Peter de Vries
and 'Consenting Adults',

Carlos Fuentes,

William Boyd

مكتبة الأصل

